Record review

NICKY HOPKINS
THE TIN MAN WAS A DREAMER
COLUMBIA KC 32074

I approached Nicky Hopkins’ first solo album “The Tin Man Was A Dreamer,” with great expectations. Hopkins is the premier keyboard man in the rock industry. He has played for such people as John Lennon, QuickSilver, The Airplane, The Who, Jeff Beck, and he holds the distinction of being the Rolling Stones’ favorite keyboard man both on record and in concert.

On this album Hopkins has help from such friends as George Harrison, Mick Taylor, Klaus Voormann, Chuck Spedding, Jerry Williams, Bobby Keys, and Jim Price. My God, what a lineup!! But sad is the case that Hopkins could have resurrected Beethoven and that wouldn’t have been enough.

The album begins with a fine first cut, a clausky piano solo, but proceeds to fall flat with the second cut, staying there for almost the entire disc. Aside from a few bright moments when the incredible virtuosity of the musicians outshine the material they have to work with, this album is one of the lamest records I have heard in years.

The chief gripe I have with this album is that Hopkins has absolutely no personality as a performer. His singing voice is drab, weak and emotionless (he even has Jerry Williams to sing the rockers for him). His songwriting is downright embarrassing, and his arrangements are boring and repetitious. Nicky Hopkins sounds like he’s a backup piano player on his own album. He fails to take the spotlight once on the entire album. He neglects his role as feature performer completely, leaving his star-studded cast with no one to follow.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank Rainy Day Record Co. Without their help this column never would have happened. So a thousand kisses from me to them, thanks.

The deadline for submitting Financial Aid applications for next year is July 1. Applications are available in the Office of Financial Aid and Placement, 1206. Fourth year students who have not completed a Placement questionnaire and wish to receive job listings and other information during the summer should complete a questionnaire in the Office of Financial Aid and Placement.

All graduates, or those not returning next year, need to go through an exit interview. Make an appointment with the Registrar’s office. If you do not go through the exit interview your $90.00 deposit will not be returned.

Student mail arriving on campus after June 9 will be forwarded to the student’s permanent address as listed with the registrar, for one month. Mail arriving after the one month period will be returned to the sender. To insure continued delivery and avoid forwarding postage fees for second, third and fourth class mail (magazines, newspapers, etc.), students should submit change of address notices to publishers.

Change of address cards are available at “A” building mailroom and campus mailroom L-128A.

Students who will be residing in modular housing during summer session will be furnished mail service at the modular mail room.

All recreation equipment must be returned by June 4. If the equipment is not returned it will be counted as lost and the person under which it has been listed as responsible must pay in full. The Library will charge $10.00 for damages.

The New Riders’ of the Purple Sage have been canceled. Ticket refunds are being made through 305 CAB.

KUS KRISTOFFERSON and RITA COLLIDGE will be in concert in Seattle June 16 at Paramount NorthWest. Tickets are on sale now through the Box Office in the Aggie, Osage, and all suburban outlets.

CINEMA
Entertainment in the Olympia area will be harder to find this week-end due to the holiday. However, the movies around town and on campus are of surprisingly high quality and should keep a dedicated movie viewer busy (if he hasn’t already seen them). Cinemarbles brings THE SERVANT directed by Joseph Losey to the screen of Lecture Hall 1 tonight at 7:30 p.m. Tomorrow night the Friday Night film series is sponsoring NOTORIOUS and THE LADY VANISHES both by Alfred Hitchcock. Showings are at 7 and 9:30 p.m. in Lecture Hall 1. In town the State Theatre is currently running CLASS OF ’44, expanded to “Summer of ’42.” It is received mixed reviews and is said not to be as strong as its predecessor. For show times call 357-4010.

Tonight the STEWART-ESSES bow out at the Olympic, with LADY SINGS THE BLUES premiering tomorrow. Times can be obtained at 357-3422. Friday night the Capitol, 357-7161, opens a double feature, BROTHER SUN, SISTER MOON, and A SEPARATE PEACE, which promises to be the most for the money.

Hot flash — THE NEW RIDERS OF THE PURPLE SAGE will perform at the 2nd Annual Rowdy Ball, June 4, if enough advance tickets sales are made. Tickets are on sale now from Pete Stirling’s office, 305 CAB, for $3 for students and $3.50 for non-students. The time and place will be announced as soon as ticket sales can guarantee the show.

Four students are exhibiting their work in the Library Building’s 4th floor gallery. Included is a series of photographs by Siew Tiler depicting Jane Adams Jr, High School, a mixed media synthesis of men’s rooms across the nation, canvas painted by a rooster and various photos by Marty Oppenheimer. Also on exhibit are three-by-five foot xerox generated portraits by Doug Kahn, photos, photo-silk screens and a postcard series by Bruce Bredwell; and a collaboration on the pig-fig series by Bredwell and Kahn. The exhibit runs through June 1.

The festival was organized by David Parrish and Beth Harrison; both are students enrolled in the Cinema Studies Group Contract headed by Gordon Link. When asked if he had any influence in organizing the Film Festival Beck said, “Let’s say I just prodded a group of students.” Beck later admitted that “David was the real spearhead of the project.”

The winning film was shot on the Evergreen campus in the handball courts of the Recreation Building. The film portrayed an incident in the office of Doctor ‘X’ (supposedly a psychiatrist). The role of ‘X’ was played by Paul Spurka, a faculty member at Evergreen. The other actor appropriately named ‘Y’ was characterized by Dejarrett himself.

The imaginative set of all white, the articulate camera angles and the distinctive use of light and dark contrast moved this black and white film ahead of all other contestants entered in the festival.

When asked if he enjoyed the festival, director of Dejarrett’s film, Jean Claude Ceché had only one comment, “Out.”

Losers’ win at TESC art show

By Bill Freeburg

Doug Kahn and Martin Oppenheimer’s various poultry exhibits stole the Evergreen Art Show and earned the dubious title of losers at last Friday’s judging. While there were several losers, everyone who wasn’t a loser was a grand prize winner. Losers included Frank Art, for the way he used sequins, and according to judge Jack Eyerley, “for perhaps the frankest art I’ve ever seen.”

Jerry Threlkeld was also a loser, because he exhibited the most conventionally beautiful piece in the show, a ceramic covered glass jar.

Paul Sparks also lost, as he was the most pictured person, either by others, or himself.

The chairman, anonymously as he was, was announced as a loser too, for simply tackling the task of putting on the show.

Since it is not customary to give prize money to the losers, they were given a job instead. They must spend the prize money on the winners. The money goes to the first and last loser, because he exhibited the most conventionally beautiful piece in the show, a ceramic covered glass jar.

Paul Sparks also lost, as he was the most pictured person, either by others, or himself.
