

August 3, 1973

...JOE WHITE NAMED AFFIRMATIVE ACTION OFFICER...W. Joe White, a Seattle regional employment consultant for the United States Civil Service, has been named to the newly created position of Affirmative Action Officer at Evergreen. The appointment is effective immediately. White, 28, will be responsible for developing, implementing and monitoring Evergreen's affirmative action plan for the recruitment, employment and advancement of minorities and women and will report directly to President Charles J. McCann.

A graduate of Tuskegee Institute with a bachelor of science in business administration, White has worked as a project coordinator of the Staff Development in Adult Corrections Project for the Department of Social and Health Services, and as a supervisory training officer for the Public Service Careers Project for the State Department of Personnel.

...BUDGET ANALYST IS A TACOMAN...Donald G. Meyer, assistant manager of Irwin Concrete, Incorporated of Tacoma, has been named Evergreen budget analyst. The appointment, effective August 20, carries with it prime responsibility for building the college's biennial budget and helping all budget unit heads on fiscal matters. A graduate of Pacific Lutheran University, Meyer, 29, has a master's degree in business administration from the University of South Dakota. He has worked for the Irwin Concrete firm since August of 1971.

...PERRIN SMITH RESIGNS...Perrin Smith, director of Admissions and Records, is off to the University of Redlands the middle of August. Smith, who has been with the college since 1970, said he will be returning to a traditional college setting which is within a hundred miles of his three older children. His duties will temporarily be divided between Laura Thomas, who will serve as acting head of records, and Sally Hunter, acting head of registration. Vice President and Provost Ed Kormondy said he will have launched a search for a new director of admissions and records by today.

...ARTISTS INVITED TO DESIGN EVERGREEN SCULPTURE...Washington artists have been invited to submit entries to Evergreen's three-dimensional design competition which college officials hope will result in installation of a completed sculpture on campus by October 30. Deadline for the contest, sponsored jointly by Evergreen and the Washington State Arts Commission, is August 15, according to Doug Barnes, student chairman of the Visual Environment Board.

Proposals for the sculpture must be "designed specifically to enhance the campus and the entire Evergreen environment," Barnes said. Artists will be required to construct the artwork on campus with the assistance of students, staff and volunteers, and must be willing to have the process of construction videotaped for Evergreen's archives.

...EVERGREENERS IN THE NEWS...Dennis Krueger, a recent Evergreen graduate, has been hired as assistant librarian at the Walla Walla State Penitentiary. Krueger was previously employed in the Thurston-Mason County Crisis Clinic and concentrated in counseling and psychology while at Evergreen...Dorothy Briscoe, chief of library user services, has announced her resignation effective the end of August. She plans to move to Houston, Texas where she will be co-owner of a bookstore...President Charles J. McCann skippered his 35-foot sailing vessel to first place in the 500-mile Seamount Cobb Sailing classic last weekend. Faculty Member Beryl Crowe served as one of McCann's first mates for the race, which called for ships to sail out of Port Angeles 250 miles and back...John Ancock, a June graduate, has announced his candidacy for the mayor of Auburn. The 27-year-old student was enrolled in the Urban Planning group contract last year...Director of Information Services Dick Nichols has refiled for his city council position in Tumwater...Frankie Foster, a Bellevue student, has won first prize in the adult division of the Bellevue American's photography contest...President McCann has named Helen Spears, special projects and reports accountant, to serve as Evergreen's forms management representative in compliance with new laws passed by the State Legislature...Bea Rockwell, accountant, has been put in charge of payroll. She has been working in the accounts payable section of the purchasing office...And, Keita Lane, an Olympia woman, has been named an accounting assistant.