...SIX MODULAR COURSES OFFERED SPRING QUARTER...Six modular courses will be offered Spring Quarter at Evergreen to part-time and auditing students, according to Academic Dean Charles Teske. An introduction to these academic programs --- designed to serve adults from the immediate college service area --- will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. March 13 in Lecture Hall Three on the Evergreen campus. Teske said the special "Living Catalog" presentation will offer interested persons an opportunity to meet faculty members and discuss academic program content.

Registration for the one-credit modules, which are equivalent to four quarter hours of credit, will be held April 3 from 4 to 8 p.m. in the Office of Admissions. Modular offerings include: Films and Writings of Alain Resnais, Robert Bresson, and Jean-Luc Godard, taught by Faculty Member Gordon Beck; Introductory Physics, taught by Faculty Member Rob Knapp; Philosophy of Science, taught by Faculty Member Charles Pailthorp; Nineteenth Century Russian Literature, by Faculty Member Tom Rainey; Future of Sino-American Relations, by Faculty Member Paul Marsh; and Varieties of American Childhood by Faculty Member Wini Ingram.

Registration fees for persons interested in earning academic credit as "special" students are $80 per module. Auditing students --- those not wanting formal evaluation or credit --- may enroll in the programs for $20. Interested persons should contact the Office of Admissions (866-6170) or the modular course instructors for additional information.

...SIXTY-THREE INTERNS ASSIGNED TO OLYMPIA...Sixty-three Evergreeners are currently completing internship assignments in the Olympia area. Ken Donohue, director of the Office of Cooperative Education, says the students are among more than 120 new Winter Quarter interns. An additional 70 students are continuing Fall Quarter intern assignments. All are earning academic credit for field experiences in a wide variety of businesses, governmental and social agencies throughout the state and the nation.

In addition to the 63 students placed locally, ten interns each have been assigned to Seattle and Tacoma, five each to Vancouver, Wash., and Chehalis-Centralia area; three each to Shelton and Bellevue, two to Brinnon, and one each to Bremerton, Electric City, Federal Way, Hoodspport, Littlerock, Snohomish, Walla Walla and Winslow. Six Evergreeners are interning out of state, and three are completing assignments outside the United States.

...OFFICE OF COOPERATIVE EDUCATION CHOSEN FOR HEW STUDY...The Office of Cooperative Education has been selected to participate in a national study of cooperative education program structures, according to Co-op Director Ken Donohue. The study, sponsored by the U.S. Office of Education and conducted by Northeastern University, is expected to provide a new profile of existing co-op programs and a means of defining or redefining co-op ed "in an innovative way," Donohue says. The profile could lead to changes in the federal guidelines for allocation of program support funds.

Evergreen's Co-op program was one of 42 selected for study from among more than 800 colleges and universities across the country offering cooperative education experience as part of their curriculum, Donohue adds.

...ART-IN-SCIENCE EXHIBIT ON DISPLAY...The Art-in-Science Exhibit, organized by the Albany Institute of History and Art and circulated for two years by the Smithsonian Institution, is currently on display in the reference area of the Evergreen library. The exhibit, described by art critics as "one of the most unique exhibitions to come along in many years," was organized in 1965 and includes two-dimensional scientific representations based on the theme of the contemporary relationship between the visual arts and sciences.

On display through March 22, the exhibit is free and open to the public. Gallery hours are from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays; from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays, and from 1 to 8 p.m. Sundays.
