...STUDENTS TO REPORT RESULTS OF NSF RESEARCH...The results of several months of scientific research --- supported by the National Science Foundation and Evergreen --- will be reported by 21 students and their faculty sponsors in a public campus meeting Dec. 13 in Lecture Hall Two. The reports, scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., will reveal results of studies on: Douglas Fir Tussock Moth damage as it relates to forest management; effects of acid rain on nitrogen fixation in Western Washington coniferous forests; and flouride concentration: levels in an ecosystem and research into related ecosystemic changes.

All three studies were financed through the NSF Student-Originated Studies Program last Spring. The student scientists, most of who have been enrolled in the Evergreen Environment or Ecology and Chemistry of Pollution Coordinated Studies programs, were guided in their NSF projects by three Evergreen Faculty Members --- Dr. Steve Herman, Dr. Oscar Soule and Dr. Michael Beug.

...EVERGREENER PICKED AS BONKER AIDE...Barbara Madsen, an Evergreen sophomore, has been selected to serve as a legislative aide for Congressman-elect Don Bonker when the Vancouver Democrat assumes office in January. Madsen, a 1972 graduate of Bellevue High School, was selected from a list of more than 200 applicants to fill the position, which will take her to Washington, D.C., where she will earn full academic credit and a Congressional stipend for her work in the House of Representatives.

...HALF OF FALL INTERNS ASSIGNED TO THURSTON COUNTY...More than one hundred Evergreen students are currently serving one-quarter internships in schools, governmental and social action agencies, and businesses in Olympia, and more than half of all Evergreen interns are working in Thurston County. Placed by the Office of Cooperative Education, the students are earning full academic credit and often a salary while gaining on-the-job experience in a variety of placements.

Of the 104 students placed in Olympia, 28 are working in area schools, 23 in governmental agencies, 13 in health services programs, three in Morningside Incorporated, five with the Union Street Center, and four with the Washington State Patrol. Other students are completing internships with the Olympia Police Department, State Capitol Museum, Animal Medical Hospital, Sailing Equipment Warehouse and Grace Piano Service, to name a few.

A total of 240 students have been placed throughout the state and the nation in the Fall Quarter internship program.

...NINE PART-TIME STUDIES PROGRAMS OFFERED WINTER QUARTER...Nine modular courses will be offered at Evergreen Winter Quarter, according to Academic Dean Rudy Martin. An introduction to these academic programs, especially designed to serve adults from the immediate college service area, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 7 in Lecture Hall Two. Martin said the special "Living Catalog" presentation will offer interested persons an opportunity to meet faculty members and discuss academic program content.

Registration for the one-credit modules, which are equivalent to four quarter hours of credit, will be held Jan. 8 from 8 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. and Jan. 9 and 10 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Office of the Registrar, Seminar Building.

Module offerings include: Introductory Physics, offered Tuesdays and Thursdays by Lee Anderson; Philosophy of Science, offered Mondays and Fridays by Will Humphreys; Calculus with Analytic Geometry, offered Mondays and Thursdays by Charlie Lyons; Mathematics for the Uninclined, offered Tuesdays and Thursdays by Richard Brian; Pre-Calculus Mathematics by Fred Young; Introduction to Organic Chemistry offered Mondays and Wednesdays by Michael Beug; Basic Ecology, offered Tuesdays and Thursdays by Ed Kormondy; Autobiographic Writing by Earle McNeil; and Stage Lighting offered Thursdays by Keith Smith.

...EVERGREEN SKI SCHOOL ORIENTATION DEC. 11...The Evergreen Ski School is offering Winter Quarter lessons unconventional, short ski and cross country skiing. The sessions will be held on Sundays, beginning Jan. 5, and Wednesdays, beginning Jan. 8. An orientation session for all ski students will be held Dec. 11 beginning at 7 p.m. in Lecture Hall One.

The Evergreen Ski program, which is fully recognized and accredited by the Pacific Northwest Ski Instructors Association, will be taught by a dozen professional skiers. All supervisory staff in the program are certified by the Association and belong to the Professional Ski Instructors of America.

Costs for the eight-week programs are: $70 for the conventional ski program (with transportation) and $110 for the short ski program (with transportation). The programs cost $40 less without transportation, which is available only on a first-come, first served basis.

Fees for the cross country skiing program have not yet been set. Skiers seeking additional information are invited to contact the Recreation Center, 866-6530.

...ENGLISH PROFESSOR TO LECTURE ON MARX DEC. 12...Professor David McLellan of the University of Kent at Canterbury, England will deliver a public lecture on "Karl Marx: The Vicissitudes of a Reputation," Dec. 12 at 4 p.m. in Lecture Hall One. McLellan, an internationally renowned Marx scholar, says he will "attempt to trace the history of what people have thought important in Marx over the past 100 years, explain why the emphasis has changed and adjudicate between competing interpretations."

...SENIOR CITIZENS INVITED TO JOIN EVERGREEN COMMUNITY; MEETING DEC. 11 DOWNTOWN...Senior citizens in Thurston County have been invited to join the Evergreen community and participate in the Encountering America Coordinated Studies program. Faculty Member Russ Fox has invited all interested senior citizens to attend a meeting with his students Dec. 11 at 1:30 p.m. at the Thurston County Senior Center, 612 North Columbia. Purpose of the meeting is to explain the students' program for Spring Quarter and encourage older persons to participate..."to share their ideas, perceptions and experiences, and to work with them in studying the problems of the aged in American society." Interested persons unable to attend the meeting are invited to call Fox at 866-6605 weekdays.
