

DOING THINKING

Agenda Week 10, 1st class: Monday, December 6

Assignments due this class

- Read “Sacred Geography” pp. 116-161 from The Wayfinders
- Select a puzzling/significant passages for seminar discussions
- “Final” integrative paper due: bring two copies to class and email us a copy as well

Housekeeping and agenda overview

- Sign-in sheet
- Schedule for rest of fall quarter (see box end of agenda)

Workshop on self-evaluations

- Evidence of learning re: “performances” of understanding
- Learning and productive shifts (big ideas, practices, habits of mind)
- Reflective writing on you and your learning

The Wayfinders: “Peoples of the Anaconda” and/or “Sacred Geography”

- Round robin on selected passages (read aloud with brief explanation for choice)
- Conversation circles and plenary of the whole

Next quarter: program update and your plans

BREAK

Three parallel activities

- Free woodworking session
Practice joints, planing, carving, and experimenting
- Meetings with Daryl on “design package” components
- Meetings with Gillies on next quarter’s plan and/or integrative paper

Adjourn

* Please take note of the following end-of-term dates and schedule

Monday, December 6 – Final integrative paper due

Wednesday, December 8 – Potluck; special guest, Joe Roush

- Design package due (conceptual statement, design doodles and conceptual sketches, two-point perspective design drawing, orthographic projection drawing, isometric projection drawing);

During week 10 (for all students)

- Self-evaluation emailed to Gillies and Daryl no later than Monday, December 13th
Note: If you will NOT be enrolled in the winter quarter for Doing Thinking your draft should be written on the appropriate Evergreen SSE form

Evaluation week (December 15-18)

Appointments with faculty

- If you are not continuing next quarter
  - faculty/student conference with Daryl/Gillies is a requirement
  - self-evaluation draft needs to be finalized and sent to registrar’s office
  - evaluation of faculty due (as team or one for each faculty member)
- If you are continuing in Doing Thinking appointments with faculty “optional”

If you have borrowed books please return them by the end of quarter. Thank you!