

THE EVERGREEN STATE COLLEGE

"GEE WHIZ!" SHEET

MAYBE YOU DIDN'T KNOW THAT . . .

- Evergreen was recently ranked in U. S. News & World Report as the "best regional liberal arts college in the West and Midwest."
- New York Times Education Editor Edward Fiske called Evergreen a "hidden gem" in higher education . . . and named the College one of the 16 lesser-known, but best small colleges in the country.
- 85% of Evergreen's graduates who have applied to law and medical school have been accepted.
- The National Science Foundation has ranked Evergreen as an "exemplary" institution in the use of computers in undergraduate education.
- Almost 50% of Evergreen's graduates have pursued graduate and professional studies.
- Evergreen's student/faculty ratio is 20:1 from the freshman year through the senior year.
- Evergreen now offers two graduate programs: a Master's in Public Administration (MPA) and a Master's in Environmental and Energy Studies (MES).
- Evergreen boasts a 94% placement rate of its graduates.
- Evergreen students' use of the College's library facilities is higher than the student library use at any of the other public universities. Also, over 6,000 community members use the library each year.
- About 14% of Evergreen's students come from outside the state of Washington and pay non-resident tuition, which is more than three-times the resident tuition.
- Fall, 1983 enrollment was 2,717 students; 11% were minority students, 20% were part-time students, and 12 different countries were represented by international students.
- One-third of Evergreen's 131 faculty are women; two-thirds of the faculty hold the Ph.D. or other terminal degrees.
- More than half -- 55% -- of Evergreen's full-time students receive financial aid.
- Evergreen has two branch campuses: one in Vancouver and one in Tacoma.
- Evergreen's Campus Recreation Center logs more than 20,000 uses by community members annually and more than 1600 community residents enroll in Leisure Education courses each year.
- Time magazine praised Evergreen for being "one of a few institutions which have tried to keep the faith with liberal arts education which truly liberates the individual."
- Evergreen students have received more National Science Foundation Student-Originated-Studies research grants than any other college in the country; more than Harvard, Yale, Stanford, M.I.T. . . .