Something New In 1979

Have you thought about adding something new to your life in 1979? Like the course you've never had time for? Or another credit toward your bachelor's degree? Or how about investigating a subject you've been wanting to know more about?

Part-time studies at The Evergreen State College make it possible for you to pursue any of these as well as many other goals. For the degree oriented student, Evergreen provides many paths towards the Bachelor of Arts through part-time options. For other adults, Evergreen offers a chance to continue a pattern of life-long learning and to meet other people who share common interests. The college campus has historically served as a gathering place for all kinds of people to meet, grow, and share. But the classroom offers a special focus on subject, the skilled guidance of instructors, the momentum toward collective and personal expansion.

Evergreen invites you to consider the offerings described in this Winter Quarter Swingshift — more than 50 separate courses, as well as Coordinated Studies and Group Contracts with options for part-timers. Evergreen also offers part-time study through the Individual Contract — a truly unique chance to delve into a subject, field or project on your own, with the support of faculty.

The Academic Fairs, described on this page, are events where you can pursue in person the various possibilities for yourself. Or you may contact the Registrar's Office, Library 1101, 866-6180 anytime throughout the year.

But first, have a look at this latest edition of Swingshift and consider how its offerings might fit into 1979 for you.

How To Use This Brochure

Swingshift is designed to inform you about part-time study opportunities Winter Quarter 1979 at The Evergreen State College, and to outline other basic information about the college and its registration procedures. The "Table of Contents" is your key to finding the information you need. Prospective students are also asked to read about and to attend the Academic Fair, described on this page.

Academic Fair

Evergreen will host two one-day Academic Fairs in connection with registration for Winter Quarter 1979. The Academic Fair is your chance to meet faculty and staff, look over the college and its programs, and register for the offerings of your choice.

Winter Quarter Offerings

Winter Quarter offerings are divided into four study categories: Arts, Humanities, Natural Sciences, and Social Sciences. The section on Natural Sciences also includes Mathematics and Computer Sciences. Some courses and programs are listed under more than one study area; these are so designated by a double asterisk (). Since there are opportunities for part-time study in a number of regular academic programs (Coordinated Studies and Group Contracts) as well as in the courses offered, we have indicated the particular form of study and credits directly beneath titles of offerings.

Questions about any of the part-time offerings listed in this edition of Swingshift should be directed to the instructor, according to the phone listed in this Swingshift, or to the Registrar’s Office, Library 1101, 866-6180.

Prerequisites: None.
Class size limit: 24.

Social Science

BIG DECISIONS: A SOCIAL SCIENTIFIC INQUIRY INTO POLICY MAKING

Group Contract (2-4 Evergreen Units).
Dr. Virginia Ingersoll, Member of the Faculty (Communications), and Dr. Lowell Kusha, Member of the Faculty (Sociology), 866-6977.
Tuesdays, 3-9 p.m., Library 1612.
"Big Decisions" is a study of how decisions are made on social policy questions — background theory and case studies of human service agencies, and corporations. Part-time students will enroll in a portion of the program that combines social statistics and organizational change from a research perspective.
Prerequisites: Two years college work, interview with faculty and instructor's signature.
Class size limit: Six-10 openings for part-time students.

CONTEMPORARY ORGANIZATIONAL LIFE

Group Contract (2-4 Evergreen Units).
Dr. Gary Adams, Member of the Faculty (Public Administration), 866-6597.
Monday, Wednesday, 6-9 p.m., Library 1417.
The aim of this Group Contract is to build a repertory of ways to understand life in contemporary organizations, emphasizing diagnosis of problems. Part-time students can enroll in a portion of the program that combines a seminar on organizational theory and behavior with an advanced group dynamics laboratory.
Prerequisites: Introductory economics, management, and organizational psychology (Management and the Public Interest Coordinated Studies program or equivalent).
Class size limit: 10-12 part-time students.

DYNAMICS OF CHANGE

Group Contract (1-4 Evergreen Units).
Carol Olesx, Member of the Faculty (Sociology), 866-6751.
Tuesday and Thursday, 10 a.m. to 12 noon, Library 2510.
A broad-based study of social change—how to describe it, what has caused it, and what roles individuals and institutions play in it—using ideas and methods from sociology and social psychology. Part-time students can enroll in either or both of two components of the full program: Sociological Research Design (methods, validity and reliability of social science research approaches for 1 unit) and Data Collection Techniques (observation, surveys, interviews and other techniques for gathering sociological data for 1 unit).
Prerequisites: Basic college skills in writing, critical reading and research. Sponsor's signature required.
Class size limit: Six-10 openings for part-time students.

GRIEVING AND DYING: TO HELP AND BE HELPED

Course (1 Evergreen Unit).
Jane Raible, Adjunct Member of the Faculty (Bioethics and Theology), 522-9083 (Seattle).

Students will work to develop sensitivity to the needs of the dying and grieving and will learn methods of providing support to those who die or grieve.
Prerequisites: Short statement about why student wants to take course and instructor's signature.
Class size limit: 20.

HELPING: SKILLS AND PROCESS

Course (1 Evergreen Unit).
Richard Rowan, Adjunct Member of the Faculty (Counseling/Psychology), 866-2621.
Monday, Wednesday, 6-9 p.m., Library 2504.
Many parents, teachers, and professional helpers and others employing helping skills daily. This beginning level course will identify these skills and aim toward their practical development and efficient use.
Video taping sessions will aid skills development.
Prerequisites: None.
Class size limit: 20.

HISTORY OUT OF THE BOOKS AND ONTO THE STAGE

Course (1 Evergreen Unit).
Sandra Lewis Nisbet, Adjunct Member of the Faculty (Theater), 866-1830.
Monday, Wednesday, 7-9 p.m., Library 2503.
The purpose of this course is to bring to life, through dramatization, little known historical figures, with emphasis on minorities and women. Students will choose a subject, do background research, and write and edit a script for performance. If there is enough interest, a succeeding course, during Spring Quarter, will produce class or community presentations from these scripts.
Prerequisites: None.
Class size limit: 20.

INTERVENTION IN THE FREE MARKET

Course (1 Evergreen Unit).
Priscilla Bowerman, Member of the Faculty (Economics), 866-6242.
Thursdays, 9 a.m.-12 noon, Library 1407.
This course will study two questions: 1) Can government intervention in a private enterprise economy, such as that of the United States or Western Europe, be justified on grounds of equity and/or efficiency? 2) What roles can be devised to insure that intervention promotes efficiency and equity? Students will participate in weekly lectures and discussions.
Prerequisites: Introductory Micro and Macro Economics.
Class size limit: 24.

CHINA NOW

Course (1 Evergreen Unit).
Pat Cavendish, Adjunct Member of the Faculty (Chinese Studies), 704-8467 (after 5 p.m.).
Tuesday, Thursday, 7:30-9:30 p.m., Library 2504.
Focusing on institutions, policies, and life in China today, students will explore ways of learning to "decode" official Chinese statements and will gain an understanding of China's aims, dilemmas, and conflicts.
Prerequisites: None.

Prerequisites: Two years of college work or equivalent skill in careful reading and logical analysis.  Class size limit: 24.

If You Want Something That Isn't Offered

Tell us what it is. Evergreen is committed to serving the residents of Southwest Washington, particularly, of course, those who live in Thurston County. Each year we review our curriculum to make sure it keeps pace with the rapidly changing world beyond our campus. If there are courses or full-time study programs you'd like to take at Evergreen that aren't now offered, take a minute to fill out the form below and send it to:

Academic Dean Will Humphreys, Library room 2219.

Winter Quarter

Calendar

Winter Quarter 1979 begins Wednesday, January 3, and ends Friday, March 16. The Quarter includes one session on February 19, when Washington's birthday is observed. For important dates related to Academic Fairs and Registration for Winter Quarter 1979, see sections titled in this brochure.

Advising/Planning

If you need information about how things work academically at Evergreen or want current information on curriculum offerings, please call Academic Advising (866-6312). This office can be most helpful to you as you decide your course of study.

Admissions Counseling

How do you enroll at Evergreen? What kinds of information does the college need to get you enrolled? How does the college operate for the part-time student? These and many other kinds of "policies, procedures and program" questions can be answered in the Office of Admissions. Just dial 866-6170 and ask for an Admissions Counselor.

Career Exploration & Placement

Part-time students needing information about career exploration and career planning (for instance, those who are given a set of studies relating to a specific career field already being pursued by the student) may be helped by identifying and eventual placement or advancement, should they desire it. The Admissions/Center's Career Planning and Placement Office (866-6193) and talk to staff members. They have a lot of information and resources at their fingertips and are happy to help you.

Internship Possibilities

Last year over 500 students performed internships in host agencies and organizations through the Evergreen Internship Program. An internship is a carefully designed learning opportunity planned as an integral part of a student's program of studies. Since internships are planned, organized and served primarily in terms of student academic objectives, an intern must be enrolled in either a Coordinated Studies, a Group or Individual Contract Program. While most internships are performed by full-time students, part-time options may also be arranged. To find out if your internship might fit into your own studies, write or telephone the Office of Cooperative Education, LAB 1020, The Evergreen State College, Olympia WA 98505, 866-6391.

Student Classification

Person who has had domicile for other than educational purposes in the state of Washington for one year immediately prior to the first day of the quarter, a dependent son, daughter, or spouse of a federal employee residing within the state, or a dependent son, daughter, or spouse of a college employee.

Non-Resident

Those who do not fit the "resident" definition. (For specific information, contact the Registrar, 866-6180.)

Student Categories

Part-time Degree Seeking

Student enrolled for one or two units of credit through continuing academic work leading to a bachelor's degree. Accepted by the Admissions Office as a regular, non-degree-seeking student. Receives regular college evaluation.

Part-time Regular

Persons wishing to immediately begin or continue work toward a bachelor's degree may wish to register as part-time "Regularly Admitted Student," taking one or two units of credit. These students follow regular admissions procedures, which require submission of a full application and transcripts of previous academic work. Those unable to complete the regular admissions process by the start of a given quarter may still apply as a "Special Student" to secure their part-time place at Evergreen. Credits would then be applied to degree work when regular admission is obtained.

Part-time Special

An application for special status for students who are not currently admitted students is available on page 11. Students wishing to carry more than 1 Evergreen unit (quarter hours) may register for two 1 unit courses (8 quarter hours) or for one course and a individual contract in the same area of study. The tuition for 8 quarter credit hours (two Evergreen units) is only $123 per quarter. This combination of course work and an independent study contract enables students to tailor their work more closely to their individual needs.

Individual Contract Ph.D.

Those who want to enroll, but have not been regularly admitted by the Office of Admissions may do so as a "Special Student" on the form on page 11. This avoids registration without formal application, supplying transcripts, etc.

Credit for 1 or 2 unit maximum is applicable to the degree following regular admission, which may be obtained later. Enrollment as a "Special Student" is a relatively easy matter. Just fill out the form on page and mail it to: Registrar's Office, The Evergreen State College, Olympia, WA 98505.

Program Definitions

Evergreen offers credit for part-time students in four basic ways:

COURSES

Studies focusing on specific subject areas. All courses generate 1 Evergreen unit regardless of whether Evergreen evaluation is applicable to the degree.

COORDINATED STUDIES

Team-taught programs which examine major problems, or themes from the perspective of various academic subjects. These programs operate at both beginning and advanced levels. Part-time students may enroll in and participate in a program in any part of Evergreen's Coordinated Studies program for academic credit.

GROUP CONTRACTS

Group Contract Studies involve the intensive examination of specific subjects such as economics, marine biology, and anthropology to name but a few. Groups include from 15 to 20 students working with one or two faculty members. Again, part-time study opportunities exist in some of these programs, with students taking less than a full academic load to earn credit.

INDIVIDUAL CONTRACTS

Where simple students work one-on-one with faculty sponsors on a specific academic assignment—nominally involves advanced, full-credit, or special status part-time students with advanced expertise may be able to negotiate these kinds of individual programs by making special arrangements with faculty members.

Degree Requirements

Students must earn a minimum of 45 units of Evergreen credit in order to complete their Bachelor of Arts degree. Students transferring from another college must earn at least 12 Evergreen units before becoming eligible to receive their Evergreen diploma. One Evergreen unit is equivalent to 4 quarter hours or 2.67 semester hours.

Evergreen will accept a maximum of 33 TESC units as transfer credit from another college (equal to 132 quarter hours or 88 semester hours). The maximum amount of credit that can be transferred from two-year colleges is 23 units, equal to 90 quarter credits. Transfer students should supply transcripts of all previous work when they apply for admission. The Admissions Office will evaluate transfer credit and supply students with a report after they are admitted.

Paths To Your Degree

Evergreen's academic policies make it possible for degree students as well as those considering degree work to use part-time studies as one vehicle toward the Bachelor of Arts degree. To find out more about integrating part-time studies into your degree plans, contact the Office of Academic Advising, Library 1200, 866-6312, or the Office of Admissions, Library 1200, 866-6170.

Evaluation

At Evergreen students are evaluated in written narrative by their faculty. Their written evaluations are added to their official transcripts which are kept in the Registrar's Office. For each unit of credit or block of units, students will have at least three documents: an official description of their program or contract; an evaluation of their performance by their faculty member; and a statement by the students themselves evaluating what they feel they have learned.

Credit For Prior Learning

There are two sources of possible credit for prior learning outside formal educational institutions: the College Level Examination Program (CLEP), and External Credit. Both may be used by students to accelerate their progress toward a degree, thereby recognizing credit-worthy but here-tofore unaccredited achievements in learning:

Students interested in CLEP should contact the Registrar’s Office (866-6180). They may be eligible to take tests in designated subject areas and earn up to two units of credit per examination. Students should be especially careful to determine their eligibility for CLEP before taking any exams.

Evergreen has established an Office of External Credit to assist older students returning to college who have work or independent study experience which may merit academic credit. External Credit staff will help students document their experiences so they can demonstrate competence and petition for academic credit. Such credit will not be granted for attainments which have already been recognized by awards of credit elsewhere. Summary statements on the external credit policy and procedures are available, and students who believe they may have experiences which could generate credit should check with Prior Learning Programs (866-6072). Up to one year of academic credit may be earned by this process.

Support Services

Part-time students may take full advantage of Evergreen's excellent undergraduate library facilities. In addition to quiet study spaces, the library houses a collection of more than 160,000 hard bound volumes, another 23,000 books and periodicals in microform, plus reference materials, serials and documents, maps, charts, art prints, audio recordings, models, films, videotapes, slides, and rare books. Complete library privileges are extended at no extra charge. Part-time students also will find a complete range of supplies and academic books and materials in the College Bookstore, main mall of the College Activities Building.
Bus Transportation

The Evergreen campus is served by the Inter-City (public) Transit System weekdays when the quarter is in session. Buses leave downtown Olympia from Fourth Street and Capitol Way (15 minutes past the hour, 7:15 through 11:15 a.m., and at five past the hour, 12:05 through 5:05 p.m.), traveling via Harrison and Division Streets, and arriving in Parking Lot C on campus twenty minutes after departure. Buses depart Parking Lot C (25 minutes before the hour, from 7:35 through 11:35 a.m. and 12:35 through 5:35 p.m.), traveling again via Harrison and Division Streets, and arriving at the Fourth Street and Capitol Way bus stop 20 minutes later. The TESC Van provides transportation between downtown and campus weekdays and on Saturdays. The van follows the same route as Inter-City Transit. Service is offered from the downtown stop every hour on the quarter-hour, from 6:15 through 10:15 p.m., weekdays; and every hour on the quarter-hour, 12:15 through 5:15 p.m., Saturdays. The van leaves campus every hour on the hour, 6 through 11 p.m., weekdays; and every hour on the hour, 12 noon through 5 p.m., Saturdays.

For a full schedule of stops and times, contact the Campus Information Center, CAB main mail, 866-6300, or Evergreen Activities, CAB 309, 866-6220.

Housing

Evergreen has a limited number of apartments for students, staff and faculty. Facilities include studio apartments; two, three and five-bedroom units in large complexes; as well as 38 two-bedroom duplexes. All units are fully furnished. Housing also includes smaller one and two-person studio rooms with access to a community kitchen adjacent to the studios. Prices vary from $71 per month per person to $392 per month for a five-bedroom unit; rates depend on the type of unit and length of contract. All utilities (except phone) and parking and FM-TV cables provided at no additional cost.
