Round 1

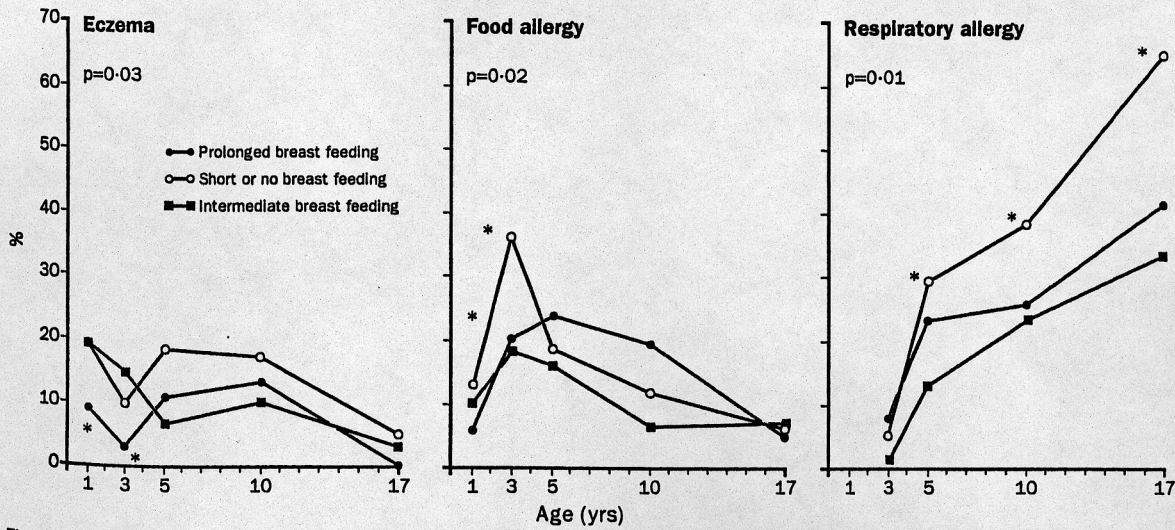

Figure 4: Prevalence of atopic eczema, food allergy, and respiratory allergy in the infant feeding groups during follow-up for 17 years. Tests for differences during the appropriate age periods—marked with asterisks (eczema 1–3 years, food allergy 1–3 years, respiratory allergy 5–10–17 years)—were done by analysis of variance and covariance with repeated measures.
