

Studio Project: Book of Orders

Written in Stone / Spring 2010

Due Tuesday AM, 4/27, Week 5

This project is about looking, selecting, ordering, and drawing.

- Collect about 40 stones that appeal to you, each no more than 3" in its longest dimension.
- Choose between 17 and 29 stones from your collection.
- Make five careful drawings of five different ways of ordering your selection of stones. Use the same set of stones in each drawing. Each drawing must be at least 15" in one dimension, on 70 lb. or heavier white or off-white paper. Your sheets should be sized to allow for binding and easy visibility of the images.
- Using methods discussed in class, bind the five drawings together into a Book of Orders.
- Document your project with digital photos.

Things to consider: How do you order things? By shape? Size? Color? Texture? Pattern? In rows? Circles? Grids? Spirals? How do you draw stones? How do light and shadow reveal form? How do you order your drawings?

Calendar:

- 4/6 Start collecting stones at Brown's Creek and the Skokomish River
- 4/15 Binding Methods Demonstration
- 4/20 Interim Drawing Review (Have all your drawings underway, either sketches or final sheets)
- 4/27 AM & PM Project Review
- 5/4 Upload your jpg digital photo files of your project

Artist: Mary Gibney